

SeeTusk — About Page Change Specification

Required changes for the About page (/about), drawn from the Website Functionality and Messaging Audit (25 June 2026).

Checked against the current development build at dev.seetusk.com · Prepared 26 June 2026

1. Purpose

This document lists the specific changes to make on the SeeTusk about page. Each item comes from the website audit and has been checked against the current development build.

A note on grounding: the live about page at dev.seetusk.com/about was retrieved directly, so most items below were checked against the current build rather than flagged for manual review. Two of the audit's suggested copy rewrites are already live — see Sections 2 and 4.1. Items that depend on something outside the About page itself (cross-page consistency, anything not visible from a single fetch) are marked “Verify on dev”.

The job of the about page

Build trust after the visitor already understands the services — explain why the studio is different and why this team can deliver.

How to read the status column

- To do — not yet reflected on dev; action required.
- Verify on dev — depends on something beyond this page; check it directly.
- Done on dev — already implemented; keep it.

2. Summary of about-page changes

Priority	Area	Change	Status
P1	Messaging	Add a short “What we actually do” strip near the top, linking back to the live service paths.	To do
P1	Team	Expand the three founder bios with role + client outcome, not just function.	To do
P2	Trust / proof	Add proof of the operating model: sample weekly roadmap, reporting cadence, client meeting rhythm.	To do
P2	Consistency	Confirm the “Founded late 2025” story doesn’t conflict with claims on /services (15 years, 200 clients).	Verify on dev
—	CTA copy	Final CTA (“Bring us the part of your brand engine...”) already matches the audit’s suggested rewrite.	Done on dev
—	Team intro copy	“The founders stay close because...” line already matches the audit’s suggested rewrite.	Done on dev

Priority	Area	Change	Status
—	Nav placement	Careers and Contact sit outside the top client nav (Content · Influencer · Web & Tech · About), consistent with the audit.	Done on dev

3. Detailed changes

3.1 Already-shipped copy fixes

Current on dev: both the final CTA under “04 / Next Move” and the team-section intro line already match the audit’s suggested rewrites almost word-for-word — only contraction differences (“that’s” vs “that is,” “we’ll” vs “we will,” “can’t” vs “cannot”).

- No action needed on either line — both already carry the sitewide message instead of the old broad CTA the audit flagged.
- Don’t let these regress during the JSX pass; confirm they survive any restructuring untouched.

Status: Done on dev — keep.

3.2 Add a “What we actually do” strip (priority)

Current on dev: the hero area only has the “How we started / Our edge” two-up block; there is no strip linking back to live service pages anywhere above the fold.

- Add a short strip directly under the hero, or right after the “How we started / Our edge” block, linking to the live service paths.
- Only 3 of the audit’s 4 paths have live pages on dev.seetusk.com today (Content, Influencer, Web & Tech) — Campaign Launches has no destination yet, so either link 3 for now or point a 4th item at Contact.
- Draft copy: “We help with: Content & Brand · Creator Campaigns · Web & Tech”

Status: To do.

3.3 Expand the three founder bios

Current on dev: each founder has one short, function-only line (e.g. Saksham: “Builds the sites, landers and tools that catch the attention we create.”).

- Add a client-outcome clause to each bio so it answers “what does that mean for me” for a first-time visitor, not just what the founder does.
- The audit doesn’t supply ready replacement lines for this item — see the draft copy bank in Section 4.2 for a starting point.
- Keep each bio to one or two sentences; don’t expand into full paragraphs.

Status: To do.

3.4 Add proof of the operating model

Current on dev: the Principles section states the rules (“Ship weekly,” “Write it down”) but shows no concrete artifact — no sample roadmap, reporting cadence or meeting rhythm.

- Add a short proof element: a sample weekly-roadmap snippet, reporting cadence, or client meeting rhythm.

- This is closer to a small content module than a pure copy edit — it may need a small visual (roadmap snippet / cadence list), which sits just outside the “copy-only, visuals unchanged” rule for this pass.
- Recommend treating this as Pass 2 unless the text-only version in Section 4.2 is acceptable for Pass 1.

Status: To do — confirm Pass 1 vs Pass 2.

3.5 Verify the founding story for cross-page consistency

Current on dev: About states “Founded late 2025, Bavdhan.” The audit notes the older /services page elsewhere claims “15 years of experience” and “200 satisfied clients.”

- Confirm /services is redirected, retired, or updated before About ships with its current founding narrative.
- This isn’t a copy change on the About page itself — it’s a cross-page QA flag carried over from the audit.
- If /services is already retired or redirected on the current dev build, this item closes with no further action.

Status: Verify on dev — depends on /services, not confirmable from this page alone.

3.6 Keep what is working

Current on dev: the small-studio/no-layers story, the founding narrative (coffee brand → waitlist → 14 people), and the four Principles are all live and unchanged.

- Retain the small-studio/no-layers story — believable and consistent with the homepage’s differentiator.
- Retain the founding story as written — it has personality and avoids agency boilerplate.
- Retain all four Principles verbatim (Taste over volume, Write it down, Ship weekly, No vanity metrics).

Status: Done on dev — keep, no changes.

4. Copy replacement bank (about)

Suggested copy for the about page, split by source:

4.1 Audit-specified copy — already live

Element	Suggested copy (from the audit)
Final CTA (04 / Next Move)	“Bring us the part of your brand engine that is stuck: content, creators, web, or a launch. We will give you a sharp read and a practical next step.”
Team section intro	“The founders stay close because strategy, production and web cannot be separated when the goal is distribution.”

4.2 Draft copy — needs your voice pass

Not sourced from the audit — these are starting points for Sections 3.2–3.4, written to match the existing tone.

Element	Draft copy — not in the audit, needs your voice pass
“What we do” strip	“We help with: Content & Brand · Creator Campaigns · Web & Tech”
Sarthak bio addition	“...then turns it into a voice and content strategy your team can actually run with.”
Saksham bio addition	“...so traffic turns into leads, not bounce rate.”
Melbin bio addition	“...on time, every week, without you chasing it.”
Operating-model line (text-only option)	“What a client week looks like: Monday async update → Wednesday working session → Friday roadmap refresh.”

5. About page QA checklist

- The “What we actually do” strip appears near the top and links to live service pages (3 of 4, with the 4th routed to Contact if used).
- Each founder bio states the role and a client-facing outcome, not just the function.
- Operating-model proof (roadmap, cadence, or meeting rhythm) is present, or explicitly deferred to Pass 2.
- The final CTA and the team-section intro line still match the audit’s approved copy — no regressions during the JSX pass.
- /services no longer contradicts the “Founded late 2025” story (page retired, redirected, or reconciled).
- No layout or visual elements changed outside the new strip/proof module — copy-only, per Pass-1 scope.
